Approval

We will evaluate your online deposit volume and your business account behavior to determine whether you qualify for the Service. We may re-evaluate any of your qualifications for this Service from time to time and may terminate or suspend this Service to you at any time for any reason or for no reason at our sole discretion.

Services Covered by this Agreement

The Service will be established for BECU accounts that you are authorized to transact on. You will use your Online Banking password to initiate the Service over the Internet. It's your responsibility to use the drop down list to select the appropriate account to which you make your deposit. The Service uses check conversion technology to convert original checks to Image Exchange Items for deposit to BECU as the bank of first deposit. You will transmit to us electronic images of original checks, or Image Exchange Items, by use of a scanner, computer, internet access, web-based interface software, and Online Banking access. Substitute Checks or Image Exchange Items will be prepared to facilitate the deposit and collection of the Imaged Item which you have transmitted. The Service may be provided by BECU and/or selected third party service providers.

Service Fees

Service fees are disclosed in the Business Account Disclosure.

Implementation

You will scan checks into your Scanner in accordance with requirements established by the scanner's manufacturer and in a manner as set forth in this Agreement, and transmit the Image Exchange Item to us or our processing agent over the Internet through a web-based interface. We or our processing agent shall perform an image quality assessment of Image Exchange Items and those checks meeting the standards set forth in this Agreement may be converted into Substitute Checks or remain as Image Exchange Items, to facilitate the deposit and collection of such checks.

Your Obligations

As you convert original checks into electronic images for transmission and deposit into your account, you must transmit all of the information from the front and back of the original check. You are responsible for all warranties and indemnifications for the Reconverting and Truncating Bank, as defined in the Check 21 Law. You will not deposit, and no depository bank, drawee, drawer, or endorser will be charged for, a Substitute Check, Imaged Item, Image Exchange Item, original check, or other electronic representation for a check that has already been paid or presented for deposit.

You will include the required restrictive endorsement language with your endorsement on all checks captured and deposited through the Service.

The required restrictive endorsement language you will use is:

"For BECU Online Deposit only"

If you deposit a check that does not contain this required restrictive endorsement language, BECU may, in our sole discretion, debit any of your accounts for the amount of the check you deposit that is missing the required restrictive endorsement language, plus the amount of any fees. This means that, if you deposit a check that does not contain the required restrictive endorsement language, BECU may decide, in our sole discretion, for any reason whatsoever, to debit the amount of the improperly endorsed check from any of your accounts you hold individually or jointly, even if the check was not deposited to such account.
