

Summary of Changes

BECU is in the process of upgrading and modernizing our Business Bill Pay Service. We are excited to start the journey to provide our business members a better bill pay experience! Over approximately the next year, we will be building a new service with more functionality and a better user interface.

As part of that process, your current Business Bill Pay service is moving to a Good Funds Model on Feb 10, 2026. This means that you will be better able to determine when money is taken out of your account to make a bill payment. It will also help avoid overdrafts on your account when the bill payment amount exceeds your account's available balance.

1. You will no longer have a "Deliver by Date" when you schedule Bill Payments. You will have a "Process by Date". This is the date that the funds are taken out of your account. Note that electronic payments must have a "Process by Date" a minimum of two days before you want your electronic payment to be made and longer if you are sending checks. Please see the definition of "Deliver by Date" and "Process by Date" on page two (2) of this document.
2. You will no longer be able to send draft checks. Instead, you will request a "Corporate Check" to be sent to your Payee. Corporate checks are funded from your account on the "Process by Date". Your business name will appear on the top left corner of the check as the "Apply to Account" entity so that the Payee knows the check is paying your account. You will no longer have to wait for a draft check to clear to know that funds have been taken out of your account.
3. Because all payments are funded on the "Process by Date" it should be easier to keep track of your payment spending to avoid insufficient funding situations. If a payment amount exceeds your account's Available Balance on the "Process by Date" or if the account is on Hold, Closed or in any other state in which the payment cannot be funded, the payment will be declined and not sent to the Payee. You will be notified by the system that the payment did not go through.

BECU does offer an overdraft protection service called the Non-Sufficient Funds (NSF) /Overdraft Protection Linked Account Option that is described in your BECU Business Account Agreements. If you have this service turned on, the account from which you pay bills can be linked to another one of your accounts such as a savings account, money market account, or a line of credit to fund the payment. This can help avoid declined payments due to an insufficient available balance in your paying account.

Note that Business Bill Pay members are not eligible for the overdraft protection service called the Optional Non-Sufficient Funds (NSF)/Service for Deposit Accounts that is described in your BECU Business Account Agreements.

Following this message, Legal Agreement starts on next page.

This agreement ("Agreement") contains the terms and conditions pertaining to the electronic bill payment service offered by Boeing Employees' Credit Union ("BECU"). 3. Payment Scheduling

The earliest estimated Deliver by Date for each Payee will be designated within the application when you Schedule the Processing Date. When scheduling payments you must select a Schedule a Process by Date for electronic payments at minimum two days prior to the Due Date reflected on your Payee statement or invoice when the Due Date falls on a Business Day. If the Due Date falls on a non-Business Day, you must select a Process by Date for electronic payments that is at least four Business Days before the Due Date. Deliver by Dates for Corporate Check payments vary depending on the Payee's receivables processing times. This means that the Process by Date should be several days in advance of the Due Date in order to provide the Payee enough time to receive the check and deposit it to the Payee's bank prior to the Due Date.

4. The Service Guarantee

Due to circumstances beyond the control of the Service, particularly delays in handling and posting payments by Payees or financial institutions, some transactions may take longer to be credited to your account. The Service will bear responsibility for any late payment related charges up to $50.00 should a payment post after its Due Date as long as the payment was scheduled in accordance with the guidelines described under "Payment Scheduling" in this Agreement.

5. Payment Authorization and Payment Remittance

By providing the Service with names and account information of Payees to whom you wish to direct payments, you authorize the Service to follow the Payment Instructions that it receives through the payment system. In order to process payments more efficiently and effectively, the Service may edit or alter payment data or data formats in accordance with Payee directives.

When the Service receives a Payment Instruction, you authorize the Service to debit your Payment Account on the Process by Date and remit funds on your behalf so that the funds arrive as close as reasonably possible to the Deliver by Date. You also authorize the Service to credit your Payment Account for payments returned to the Service by the United States Postal Service or Payee, or payments remitted to you on behalf of another authorized user of the Service.

The Service will use its best efforts to make all your payments properly. If we do not complete a Payment Instruction on the Process by Date according to our agreement with you, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, the Service shall incur no liability and any Service Guarantee shall be void if the Service is unable to complete any Payment Instruction because of the existence of any one or more of the following exceptions:

- a) If, through no fault of the Service, your Payment Account does not contain a sufficient available balance to complete the transaction or the transaction would exceed the available balance in any of your linked accounts.
- b) The payment processing center is not working properly, and you know or have been advised by the Service about the malfunction.
- c) You have not provided the Service with the correct Payment Account information, or the correct name, address, phone number, or account information for the Payee; and/or,
- d) Circumstances beyond control of the Service (such as, but not limited to, fire, flood, or interference from an outside force) prevent the proper execution of the transaction and the Service has taken reasonable precautions to avoid those circumstances.

Provided none of the foregoing exceptions are applicable, if the Service causes an incorrect amount of funds to be removed from your Payment Account or causes funds from your Payment Account to be directed to a Payee which does not comply with your Payment Instructions, the Service shall be responsible for returning the improperly transferred funds to your Payment Account, and for directing to the proper Payee any previously misdirected transactions, and, if applicable, for any late payment related charges.

6. Payment Methods

The Service reserves the right to select the method in which to remit funds on your behalf to your Payee. These payment methods may include, but may not be limited to, an electronic payment, an electronic to Corporate Check payment, or a Corporate Check payment. (Funds remitted to the Payee are deducted from your Payment Account on the Process by Date no matter what the payment type may be.)

7. Payment Cancellation Requests

You may cancel or edit any Payment Instruction and any Pre-Scheduled Process by Date (including recurring payments) by following the directions within the application. There is no charge for canceling or editing a Payment Instruction or Pre-Scheduled Process by Date. Once the Service has begun executing a Payment Instruction on the Process by Date, it cannot be cancelled or edited, therefore a stop payment request may be submitted at which time the corresponding stop payment fees will apply, as stated below.

8. Stop Payment Order

The Service's ability to process a stop payment order will depend on the payment method used to fulfill your Payment

Instruction and the timing of when you submit the stop payment order to us. We must be given a reasonable amount of time and opportunity to act on any stop payment order. You may submit a stop payment order by telephone or in person.

- a) Telephone us at 800-704-8080 during business hours; or

If it is determined there was no error, we will mail you a written explanation within three (3) Business Days after completion of our investigation. You may ask for copies of documents used in our investigation. The Service may revoke any provisional credit provided to you if we find an error did not occur.
