

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

WILL DAUGHERTY (TERM ENDING 2023)

BIO

Will Daugherty has served as President and CEO of Pacific Science Center (PacSci) since the beginning of 2016. With a business mindset and a commitment to serving the community, Will has led PacSci to expand access, to strengthen delivery of science education in underserved communities throughout the state, and to become a resource for the region's innovation economy. Will came to PacSci with more than 20 years of leadership experience in the technology sector including executive roles at Amazon, Expedia, and McKinsey. Will serves on the Board of Directors of BECU, KEXP, and Inspire Washington. His prior board service includes the Special Olympics USA Games, the Olympic Park Institute, and the Children's Discovery Museum of San Jose.

PERSONAL STATEMENT

"Serving BECU and its members as a Director is a great honor as well as a tremendous responsibility. BECU's values and focus on 'people helping people' align with my values and focus on serving the community. During my three years as a Director, we have deepened our commitment to improving the financial health of our members, increased the number of people we serve, and expanded our impact in the communities where our members live and work. We have also embraced the opportunities and navigated the challenges of an increasingly digital world. I am excited about helping BECU and our members thrive in the years ahead."

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

JESSIE WOOLLEY-WILSON (TERM ENDING 2023)

BIO

Jessie Woolley-Wilson is the President and CEO of DreamBox Learning®, a technology company that pioneered Intelligent Adaptive Learning™ and provides a K-8 digital math solution for students and educators. DreamBox is proven to unlock learning potential for all students -- regardless of race, gender or zip code. Previously, Jessie held leadership roles at Blackboard's K-12 Group, LeapFrog, and Kaplan. She supports the broader education community by serving on several boards including Rosetta Stone, the Western Governors University Board of Trustees, and Pacific Science Center. Forbes placed Jessie on its "Impact 15" list and she has also been honored as a Puget Sound Business Journal "Woman of Influence", "Innovator of the Year", Ernst & Young "Entrepreneur of the Year ®", and GeekWire's "Big Tech CEO of the Year."

"I am honored to serve on the BECU Board of Directors and support BECU's commitment to partnering with members to improve their financial health and wellness. BECU lives its values of being a good community partner and I strongly believe in its programs that support financial literacy for pre-college students. BECU has a long history of excellence and I would consider it a privilege to continue serving the membership and supporting BECU's brand promise, service-driven and collaborative culture, and commitment to equity."

AUDIT COMMITTEE

DENIS FARMER (TERM ENDING 2021)

BIO

Denis Farmer is a Managing Director with Slalom Consulting, a purpose-driven consultancy focused on strategy, technology and business transformation that is dedicated to helping people reach for and realize their vision. Prior to joining Slalom, Denis was a partner with Accenture, in addition to earlier roles with Electronic Data Services and various Internet startups.

"I've proudly served on the BECU Board of Directors since 2005. I am a strong believer in the credit union movement. The credit union principles resonate with me. I love that credit unions are member-owned, that this is our organization, and that we make decisions in the best interest of our members. BECU has grown a lot over my tenure, and the nature of the business that we manage has grown more complicated. However, our purpose of serving our members brings a soothing simplicity to even the most complex issue."
