WASHINGTON FIRST ROBOTICS

FIRST Washington provides exciting, mentor-based afterschool programs for youth ages 6-18, in order to build science, technology, engineering, and math skills (STEM), inspire innovation, and foster well-rounded life capabilities including self-confidence, communication and leadership. In our four age-appropriate programs, industry mentors, teachers and parents team up with students not just to build robots, but to build self-confidence and respect. We strive to bring STEM equity, access, and inclusion to the most disadvantaged youth in communities lacking resources, so that ALL youth can develop 21st century workforce/life skills; so that the STEM pipeline includes more diversity; and so we can solve the STEM workforce shortage for local businesses.

YOGA BEHIND BARS

Yoga Behind Bars (YBB) is the only nonprofit in Washington State dedicated to offering trauma-informed yoga and meditation in prisons, jails, and detention centers. Our approach to compassionate rehabilitative programming is intended to shift the culture in prison from punishment to healing, harm to transformation, and recidivism to reintegration.

As a national leader in prison yoga service, YBB serves thousands of students per year in 17 state prisons, jails, and detention centers. Our volunteer faculty of 102 certified instructors, including inmate teachers, offer an average of 37 classes a week. We promote rehabilitation, help to build safer communities, and contribute to reform of the corrections system. Ultimately, we aspire to end the intergenerational cycle of suffering caused by incarceration.

SIBLING HOUSE

Sibling House is a network of homes where siblings in foster care can stay together in a loving environment while separated from their birth parents.

This includes identifying, and providing support, through our Mentoring and Outreach, Project Sheltering Tree, Enrichment, and Outdoor Experience Programs, to other foster homes that are willing to provide care to siblings in foster care, essentially, more “Sibling House(s)”. It is through the efforts of volunteers, corporate sponsors, strategic alliances with business and the community, and generous benefactors from all walks of life, that Sibling House works to reach the goals of the founders. In the true essence of “giving back to the community” we all share the ideals of Sibling House. We at Sibling House invite you to join us in making a difference, today...and tomorrow. It takes a village.
